*A dance piece in the staircase?
Poetry in the garden?
A concert in an office?*

Join us for the first Performance Festival of the Goethe-Institut Max Mueller Bhavan in Pune and discover its many facets! See, hear and feel how the building of the Institut and its many public and secret rooms become alive, from the offices to the classrooms to the roof top...

This year's edition will focus on contemporary time-based arts which envelop us in the fleeting presence of the moment. A vast program of events will spread over two days and invite you to dive into the contemporary practices of artists based in Pune and Maharashtra.

Offering an innovative and intimate presentation of art, the program will feature dance performances, music concerts, and film screenings. Rather than following the common set-up of a theatre stage, the presentations will explore unusual rooms and perceptions of architecture and expand the stage throughout the whole building! One highlight will be a piece by the German performance artist Mira Hirtz, who is also the guest curator for this festival. Her piece will be the outcome of her residency with the Goethe-Institut, in which she will collaborate with inspiring dancers from Pune.

Enjoy and get to know the Goethe-Institut in a new way!
