1. General information

The Innovation. Media. Minds: EU Support to Public Service Journalism in the Western Balkans Programme objective is to assist Public Service Media (PSM) in enhancing organisational performance and internal governance while also enhancing the individual capacities of journalists, technical personnel, top and middle management, and staff members.

1.1. About the Innovation. Media. Minds: EU Support to Public Service Journalism in the Western Balkans

Funded by the European Union, the Innovation. Media. Minds Programme is managed by the Goethe-Institut on behalf of the European Commission and in collaboration with its implementing partner DW Akademie. Innovation. Media. Minds: EU Support to Public Service Journalism in Western Balkans seeks to promote an environment that is supportive of media freedom and improve participatory democracies and the EU approximation process in the region through a strengthened contribution by civil society and media. The Programme will collaborate with public service media in the Western Balkans to specifically address the following objectives:

- a) improve internal governance and organisational performance of public interest journalism;
- b) enhance the professional capacity of journalists, both women and men equally, in public broadcasters and,
- c) expand the cooperation and partnership between public service media in the Western Balkans.

INNOVATION. MEDIA. MINDS.

Specific methodologies and areas of institutional and capacity development required for each PSM will be defined based on an initial needs assessment and audience research from the baseline assessment. Using both financial and technical support, a set of priority areas of intervention and corresponding targets will be created in cooperation with each funded PSM based on the comprehensive research. Until the completion of the Programme, a total of EUR 900,000 will be distributed within several grant schemes.

1.2. Objectives of the grant scheme

The grants scheme particularly seeks to:

- improve PSMs' internal governance and organisational performance;
- elevate the level of quality and applicability of the content created;
- increase audience participation and engagement;
- support PSM editors and journalists in the Western Balkans in advancing their professional abilities and gaining insight, expertise and knowledge about contemporary EU journalism standards and practices.

Please refer to Section - Timetable and Implementation for more specific details regarding the current call for proposals.

1.3. Innovation project grants

The call for Innovation project grants of PSMs is open exclusively for the following: *PSMs with a legal body established in Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Kosovo^{1}, Montenegro, North Macedonia, Serbia that have signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the Goethe-Institut and the DW Akademie and participated in the in-house needs assessment. The issues and areas of action identified during the needs assessment phase, along with the demands of certain target audiences (minorities, gender, youth, socially vulnerable groups, etc.), may serve as the foundation for the Innovation project grants. The Innovation project grants have a specific objective of improving the internal governance and organisational performance of Western Balkan PSMs, expanding the audiences, increasing their engagement and involvement, and elevating the quality and relevance of the created content. A total budget of EUR 420,000 will be distributed in two calls for proposals. The highest grant amount that can be awarded is EUR 60,000.

PSMs may apply to cover the following costs:

¹ *This designation is without prejudice to positions on status and is in line with UNSCR 1244/1999.

INNOVATION. MEDIA. MINDS.

- Costs for new productions such as fees for freelance contracts (filming team), training costs, catering, materials for filming, etc.
- Expenses for technical support and office equipment (IT, multimedia platforms, mobile journalist sets for mobile reporting, operating new software/apps/equipment, data protection, copyright, etc.) including new and innovative technical solutions to improve value for money and effective programming, content production, etc.

PSMs must demonstrate in their project proposals that the activities they propose are consistent with the reform/change process and hold a sustainability element. Examples of such activities include research activities, organising events, participation in workshops and trainings, producing news, etc.

Important notes:

- Only Western Balkan PSMs that have signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) are eligible to apply for Innovation project grants.
- Any content production should rely on the existing capacities (human & technical) and resources of the PSM as well as include the development of new capacities and resources. Sustainability and ownership of content production are preconditions, and both must be guaranteed by PSMs.

1.4. Duration

Applicants have the opportunity to apply for Innovation project grants, with project implementations lasting a maximum of twelve (12) months.

2. Eligibility criteria

2.1. Who can apply?

Applicants must comply with the following criteria:

- Operate as a PSM with a legal entity (media outlet) established in one of the following IPA beneficiaries: Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Kosovo*, Montenegro, North Macedonia, Serbia;
- Have signed a MoU with the Goethe-Institut and DW Akademie;
- Have participated in the in-house needs assessment.

Within their project proposals, Western Balkan PSMs should demonstrate the following selection criteria:

INNOVATION. MEDIA. MINDS.

- Impact: The proposed project/project activities have a significant impact on the PSM's operations, audience reach, or societal role.
- Innovation: The project introduces new and innovative approaches to public service broadcasting.
- Sustainability: The project is sustainable and has the potential to be replicated or scaled up.
- Alignment with program objectives: The project is aligned with the specific objectives of the Programme.
- Potential for cross-border collaboration: The project should have the potential to foster collaboration among PSMs from different regions.

The IMM Programme welcomes cooperation between two or more Western Balkan PSMs in implementation of project activities suggested within this grant scheme. Applying in partnership with another media outlet/organisation for the grant application purpose is not allowed, as the grant scheme is focused on building individual capacity of Western Balkan PSMs. The applicant cannot be a beneficiary of EU funds or another donation or grant scheme financing activities that are identical to the ones proposed for this grant scheme. Western Balkan PSMs that already received funding within the first call for Innovation project grants are eligible to apply. However, financing activities that are identical to the ones already approved within the first call for project proposals will not be accepted.

2.2. Eligible and ineligible expenditures and principles of funding

The expenses required must be indicated by applicants in the budget part of the GAP (Goethe Application Portal). Details on the kinds of expenses that can be covered by the budget, the amounts that can be paid, and the method used for calculating those amounts are given in the tables below.

Can the original budget be modified or adjusted during the implementation stage?

The overall budget cannot be increased after the project application and budget are approved. It may, however, be modified or altered if, for instance PSM chooses to allocate funding for alternative equipment or capacity-building training. The recipient of funds may reorganize the amounts under each "real costs" budget line by up to 10% of the total amount originally specified.

Please note:

Co-funding of the projects from other source(s) is possible, e.g., co-funding of equipment, registration fee for the targeted conference, etc. However, if these costs are covered by another source, they cannot be included in the budget of this grant scheme, but must be clearly mentioned in the application form.

2.3. Additional information

Applicants may only submit one application. If an applicant submits several applications, only the last submitted application will be considered.

The Programme team may revise the procedure, the application structure, or the financial support mechanism used for upcoming calls for proposals in response to new regulations or other situations. Every call for proposals has its own set of guidelines that are issued individually. As a result, we strongly advise applicants to carefully consult the guidelines of the relevant call for proposals if they want to apply to future calls for proposals. Any conflict of interest must be avoided at all times.

INNOVATION. MEDIA. MINDS.

DW Akademie offers in-house trainings to accompany the projects submitted. When writing the project proposal, PSMs are expected to consider what kind of in-house training is requested. DW Akademie covers experts' fees, travel, and accommodation costs. All other costs linked to these activities - such as equipment, room rent, as well as catering, travel, and accommodation costs for the participants of the training have to be planned in the project proposal budget.

2.4. Visibility

Beneficiaries of the Innovation. Media. Minds (IMM) Programme grant scheme must clearly acknowledge the European Union's contribution in all publications or in conjunction with activities for which the financial support is used. In this respect, beneficiaries of the grant scheme are required to highlight the name and use the logo of the European Union on all their publications, posters, programmes, and other products produced under the financed project.

To do this, beneficiaries must follow the Communication and Visibility Manual for IMM Programme Beneficiaries. Non-compliance with these requirements can have financial/administrative consequences. Finally, beneficiaries are also encouraged to post on social media mentioning the EU and the IMM Programme with the hashtag #EU4MediaMindsWB.

After the completion of project activities, IMM Programme will publish the following information, in summary form, for each of the IPA² beneficiary part of the Programme:

Important note: Expenses not made/paid in EUR but in the local currency, must be converted to EUR using the exchange rate provided by the relevant Goethe-Institut after ending of the project implementation period and before submission of the final financial report, upon request of the beneficiary. The relevant Goethe-Institut will use the average exchange rate according to SAP (internal accounting system) as a basis for the settlement of the entire grant amount.

3.2. Principles applying to this grant scheme

Non retroactivity

Beneficiaries may begin implementing their project only after their grant agreement is signed. Costs incurred before the signature of the grant agreement will not be eligible.

Multiple submissions

INNOVATION. MEDIA. MINDS.

In cases where several applications from the same applicant have been submitted, the Programme will assess the last submitted application. Applications with identical or similar content submitted by different applicants will be subject to a special assessment and may be rejected, due to suspicion of fraud.

No-Profit

Projects supported by the European Union must not have the purpose or effect of producing a profit within the framework of the project implemented by the beneficiary.

The Goethe-Institut is responsible through the EU Commission for indirect fund management of EU funds in accordance with Article 62 in conjunction with Article 154 of the Financial Regulation (FR)³.
