

OPEN CALL YOUNG JOURNALISTS PROGRAMME

Are you interested in a career in journalism and eager to tell stories that connect and inspire young people across Europe? Would you like to develop your skills and get hands-on experience while working on transnational topic with newsrooms from the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Estonia, Hungary, Lithuania, and Poland?

Then apply to become part of the Young Journalists Programme, a three-month tailor-made mentorship by experienced journalists from the PERSPECTIVES<sup>2</sup> network of newsrooms.

What is PERSPECTIVES<sup>2</sup>?

It is the label for young, constructive and multi-perspective journalism! Our aim is to amplify voices of young people and explore topics that are relevant and interesting to them. A hallmark of the project is its transnational-by-default approach—most stories are developed collaboratively with at least two newsrooms to ensure diverse perspectives and cross-border relevance. This year, our focus is on non-metropolitan areas and we are going to be especially looking for stories connected to experiences and challenges of young people living outside of big cities.

The newsrooms involved in the project are:

- EPER radio station (Hungary),
- JÁDU (Germany, Czech Republic, Slovakia, Ukraine),
- Kapitál (Slovakia),
- Kultura Liberalna (Poland),
- NARA (Lithuania),
- Narvamus (Estonia),
- and Revue Prostor (Czech Republic).

The Young Journalists Programme is going to run in two rounds You will take part in one of them:

- March – May 2025
or
- September – November 2025

What can you expect?

You will receive tailor-made mentorship from experienced journalists who will help develop your journalism skills.

You will take part in a one-week training in Hungary (first half of April 2025) or Estonia (September 2025), which will help you delve into the world of journalism and get to know your new colleagues.

You will work on media content independently, collaborating with your young colleagues from other countries, supported by seasoned journalists.

You will participate in international newsroom meetings and exchange your views with other (junior) journalists involved in the programme.
